The HAWK

1963

Ray,
Here wishing the best of luck in the future to a wonderful guy.
Always keep your sweet personality and you'll go far in the world.
Love a friend,
Jonnie Jo
Smith

Dear Ray,
Best of Luck
to a real success
Guy. I wish I could have known you better
But always remember that white
trees have spots not 3.
Love a friend,
Jerri,

Class Prophecy

It was the year 3000 A.D., and a group of scientists had just come back from a fascinating trip from Mount Rathdrum. They had been searching for a lost city and had brought back with them some newspapers and other books containing information about the people who had once dwelled within the lost city.

Among the earliest dated newspapers was an article about Dave Atchison's success as a business tycoon for an atomic energy plant. The headlines of another said, "Ronni Conklin, First Woman Astronaut." Further down the page in that same newspaper it told of Barry Simon's appointment as president of Yale University. A new type of feed had been discovered by Bill Ford, a well-known agricultural scientist. His assistant, Carolyn Saxe, received her PHd.

On the inside of one of the papers was a big advertising section: "Come Frolic in Harveyna's Playland." The Circle Ranch was owned and managed by Harveyna McComas. "Marv's used cars. We buy, sell, trade, swap, and a few other things." Marvin Allen's used car lot, just south of Spirit Lake. At the last of the page in big red print was "Doug's Dive," the most popular bar in town, owned and operated by Doug Reynolds.

On the sports page of the same paper was a full-length picture of Ken Salesky, voted world's greatest basketball player for 1973. His personal manager, Terry Kiefer, was beside him holding the trophy with a smile of victory on his face. Among the newest track runners was Gordon Best. He was going to try to break the record by running the ten-mile race in only five minutes. Another picture was of Ernie Nagel, working out to defend his title of World's Champion Boxer. A new jockey, Gale Smith, was in training for his first big race at Playfair. The world's record for bronc riding was broken by James Hill, Idaho's all-around cowboy.

In one paper dated 2000 A.D. were the bids for a new Alcatraz which was won by Skip Delaney, a contractor for prisons. His company appointed Stan Bates as warden and Mert Oles as head guard. The article was signed by Steve Hunt, private stenographer for Delaney and Company.

The movie section had headlines of the newest rock 'n' roll singer, Leon Blood, coming to town. It also reviewed Margie Sylte's newest movie, "Love and Marriage." The award for the bravest stunt girl went to Janice Schauer in the year 2000 A.D.

On the front page of one dated 1980 the headlines read: "Paula Shaw weds U.S. senator from Idaho." Further down it told about Bob Gish's appointment as Vice President of the Diamond Match Company.

The fashion page showed some of Nancy Lundblad's newest creations in clothes. Her model was Cheri Howery, and her hair designer was Dorothy Murray. Bonnie Mortensen modeled the newest clothes for stewardesses, since she was the top stewardess in the United States.

The religious section showed April Becker on her first trip to Togoland as missionary. With her went Carol Volavka, a registered nurse. Carol Griffiths had just become head nun in Rome. An editorial in the same paper was written by Brian Bacon, announcing his engagement to Elaine Blaisdell.

Among the newspapers were a few books. One was written by Henry Lesser which was stamped "Best Seller." Pamphlets on scientific problems had named Elgiva Rainwater as "Most Progressive Scientist." Another pamphlet was written by John Heitstuman telling the basic fundamentals of skin diving.

A military booklet, written by Captain Bonnie Brown, tells of Alan Younker's great flight to the moon since his appointment as Air Force Commander.

Headlines in a newspaper told about Cheryl Blaine's saving Darrel Skellinger from the terrible waters of Twin Lakes. Thanks to Cheryl, Darrel could still repair typewriters.

Dennis Johnston advertised his radio station in one of the newspapers. The advertisement was signed by Sue Townsend, private secretary to D. J. Incorporated.

The little paper of the lost city told of the new teachers in Lakeland High School. Gary Power was the government teacher, and Loretta Ricketts was the new librarian. Danny Poland was the janitor, and Maxine Zimmer took over as commercial teacher.

Last Will and Testament

I, David Atchison, will my laugh to Darwin Schultz.
I, Marvin Allen, will whatever I have to any junior boy who needs it.
I, Brian Bacon, will my ability to find a girl with a farm large enough to hunt on to Pat McDonough.
I, Stan Bates, will my '58 Chevy to Clark Masterson.
I, April Becker, will my big-bear appetite to Patsy Brown in hopes that she will always stay slim and trim.
I, Gordon Best, will my neat convertible to my brother, Jerry Bleisner.
I, Cheryl Blaine, will my stubbornness to Mr. Butler.
I, Elaine Blaisdell, will my laugh to Ina Singer.
I, Leon Blood, will my ability to drive recklessly without getting caught to Joe Fletcher in hopes that he will use it.
I, Bonnie Brown, will my ability to get all the babysitting jobs I could ever want to Linda Sylte. Happy weekends!
I, Ronni Conklin, will my ability to do everything wrong to any junior who thinks he is big enough to take it.
I, Skip Delaney, will four roses to Mike Younker.
I, Ronnie Elmer, will my ability to sprain my ankle every time I turn around in football to Mike Reynolds.
I, Bill Ford, will my cheat notes to my brother, Ray Ford, who I hope will be able to use them as well as I did.
I, Bob Gish, will my economics notebook to anyone who needs it.
I, Carol Griffiths, will my presidency of foot in the mouth club to Andrea Ross in hopes that she doesn't use it as often as I have.
I, James Hill, will my hair to Craig Eberhart.
I, John Heitstuman, will my ability to get along with Coach Kane during football to Butch Olson if he can stick it out.
I, Cheri Howery, will my natural talent to rile Mr. Simon to Mike Ford, as if he needed it.
I, Sharon Huckabay, will my gigantic budget to Barbara Harms.
I, Steve Hunt, will my ability to remain quiet to Roger Walton.
I, Denny Johnston, will my ability to stay out of trouble to Joe Fletcher.
I, Terry Kiefer, will my belt on my football trunks to Joe Miller in hopes that things will hold up better next year.
I, Henry Lessor, will my brain to next year's biology class.
I, Nancy Lundblad, will my long, black, curled eyelashes to any girl who would like to be teased by Mr. Butler.
I, Harveyna McComas, will my excess pounds to Sharon Sylte, in order that she may have a full future.
I, Shelly Messner, will my ability to stay single to Judy Stapleton.
I, Bonnie Mortensen, will my ability to type to Elden Goodwin in hopes that some day he will be as speedy as I have been.
I, Dee Dee Murray, will my figure to Dennis Scarcello so he can be a fullback on the football team next year.
I, Ernie Nagel, will my small frame to Dennis Scarcello.
I, Mert Oles, will my ability in bookkeeping to any sophomore who might need it next year.
I, Danny Poland, will my cannon hose and my great ability to syphon to Mike Ford.
I, Gary Power, will my bicycle to Mary Lou Larson. Be careful because it's awfully fast.
I, Elgiva Rainwater, will my slim figure to Helen Olson.
I, Doug Reynolds, will my ability to stay out of trouble to anyone who needs it.
I, Loretta Ricketts, will to Mary Miller my boyfriend if she will have him.
I, Ken Salesky, will my height to Richard Wright hoping that some day he can use it.
I, Carolyn Saxe, will my gift of gab to Judy Kessinger in hopes that she can make good use of it in her senior year.
I, Janice Schauer, will my height to Barbara Harms.
I, Paula Shaw, will my black eyes to Mr. Butler.
I, Barry Simon, will my smelly tennis shoes to Butch Olson as his feet won't make them smell much worse.
I, Darrel Skellinger, will my good luck to Allen Hoseth.
I, Gale Smith, will my good looks to Arnold Bakie.
I, Margie Sylte, will my ability to cheerlead to Mary Lou Larson in hopes someday she will use it.
I, Sue Townsend, will my freckles to Betty Sundler.
I, Carol Volavka, will all my doctors and nurses to anyone who can use them.
I, Alan Younker, will my 6' 3" frame to Joe Fletcher's 5' 5" frame.
I, Maxine Zimmer, will my blonde hair to Jan Holbert.

We the Class of 1963 will the following things:

To the Juniors--All the frustration, hard work, and pleasure of making the annual.
To the Sophomores--Our ability to keep the teachers on our side.
To the Freshmen--We leave you with an unblemished school in hopes that you will take care of it.
To the Teachers--Our congratulations on a job well done!

Dear Kay,
Someday Ill Club de Español and your famous orange skis. Ski's are my favorite colors and if anyone ever wears it I always tell them off as you have already experienced. Mark my word someday I'll be able to translate as fast as you without cheating. You're a real swell guy with a humorous personality. I hope you have as much fun in your Senior year as I have had. You can achieve success in anything you attempt to do if only you reach for the stars. Good luck and keep smiling — you have adorable dimples. Take it easy on the women-
